Born in Kentucky in 1873, he attended Princeton University, taking the bachelor's degree in 1895 and the master's in 1896. His graduate studies he pursued in Berlin, Leipsic, Marburg and Jena, receiving the doctorate at the last-named in 1897. Since 1895, save for the intervals spent in travel and study abroad, he has been a member of the German department at Princeton, where he is now Professor of German Literature. His published works include a biography of Eichendorff von Forst, a history of German literature, and a study of German culture since 1810, as well as the present translation of Goethe's Faust. Faust
Translated and edited by GEORGE MADISON PRIEST

PARTS ONE & TWO

Goethe

TRANSLATED AND EDITED, WITH AN INTRODUCTION AND NOTES, BY GEORGE MADISON PRIEST
PROFESSOR OF GERMAN LITERATURE, PRINCETON UNIVERSITY

“GREAT WORKS AREijd in a work of this kind. A few words are inadequate to convey the impression of the whole work. The reader is left with the impression of a work of art, conceived as a whole, rather than of a translation of a work of art. The translator has done his work well, and the result is a translation that is as faithful as possible to the original. The work is recommended to all who are interested in German literature and art.”
—Hans Christian Andersen
